

Coefficients of Productivity for Yellowstone's Grizzly Bear Habitat

USGS/BRD/BSR—2002-0007

Cover: Background photo, Beartooth Plateau and a whitebark pine forest, which produces the primary Yellowstone grizzly bear food, whitebark pine seeds, David Mattson, USGS; inset photos of other important Yellowstone grizzly bear food clockwise from top, bison and elk, Bart Schleyer, Interagency Grizzly Bear Study Team (IAGBST); cutthroat trout, Daniel Reinhart, National Park Service; and army cutworm moth, Jeff Henry, Roche Jaune Pictures; these grizzly bears also frequently graze dandelions, David Mattson, USGS, and excavate biscuitroots, IAGBST; Yellowstone grizzly bear cubs, Bart Schleyer, IAGBST.

1879–2004